INDEX

TO THE

TWENTY-FOURTH VOLUME

OF THE

NATIONAL QUARTERLY REVIEW.

America, extinct races of, the mound-builders, article on, 121—languages, ib.—physical peculiarities, 122—Indian a primitive race, ib.—evidence of earlier race, ib.—warfare with Indians, 123—defensive works, ib. et seq.—mounds, 125—number and size, ib.—of what composed, 126—contents, ib. et seq.—sepulchral mounds, 127 et seq.—nitre caves of Kentucky, 128—Enclosures, ib. et seq.—Sacrificial mounds, 129—Temple mounds, ib.—graded ways, 130—antiquities of Florida, 131—monument in Adams county, Ohio, 132—age of copper, 133—American aborigines in copper age, ib.—their works in copper, ib.—how and where obtained, 134—pottery, 135 et seq.—ornaments and warlike implements, 136—stone carvings, ib. et seq.—lost arts, 138—origin and fate, 139 et seq.—theories respecting origin, 140 et seq.—migrations, 142 et seq.—Nahoas, 143—Toltecs, ib.—Aztecs, 144.

Ancient Inhabitants of Europe and whence they came, article on, 207—traces of civilization, ib.—Chinese civilization, 208—nomadic migrations, 209—means of tracing them, 210—aborigines of Europe, ib. et seq.—Basques, 211—Aryan migration, 212—Rig-Veda, ib.—Celts, 214—their migrations, 215—national remains, ib.—peculiarities, 216—personal appearance, ib.—Pelasgian migrations, ib. et seq.—Hellenes, 217 et seq.—Etruscan races, 218—Teutonic invasion of Roman empire, ib.—results, 221—Sclavonic migration, ib.—Asiatic branch of Aryans, 122 et seq.—mythology, 223—literature, ib. et seq.—Cushite migrations, 224—Egyptian chronology, 225—Semitic migrations, 226—Phœnicians, ib.—Carthage, 228—Hebrews, ib.—Mohammed, ib. et seq.—Turanian migrations, 229—Mongol and Turkish invasions, 229 et seq.—the Huns, 230—Avars, ib.—Magyars, ib.—Mongol invasion, 231—Gengis Khan, ib.—Tamerlane, ib.—descendants of Aryans, 232—their differences, ib.

Assassination versus Fraud, article on, 314—our chief duty, ib.—almighty dollar, ib.—valued more than life, ib. et seq.—our former articles, 315—the robber and the murderer, ib. et seq.—protection, use of government, 316—effects of civilization, ib.—increased—expiation of murder by money, ib.—course in this country, ib.—parallel in middle ages, ib. et seq.—Saxon method, 317, et seq.—Norman laws, 319—duelling, ib. et seq.—prosecutions for murder, 320—Americans compared with foreigners, ib et seq.—foreign instances, 321 et seq.—Georg IV, 322—Lord Shrewsbury, ib.—Wellington, 323—Hamilton and Burr, ib.—Clay and Randolph, ib. et seq.—treatment of murderer and robber, 324—Erie road, 325—General Dix, ib.—Charles O'Connor, ib.

Baskerville's Poetry of Germany reviewed, 385.

Bohemia, its political vicissitudes and its literature, article on, 1—language, 2—introduction of Roman characters, ib.—resemblance to Latin and Greek, ib.—Slavic nations, 3 et seq.—the Czekhes, 4—early history, ib.—establishment of schools, ib.—introduction of Christianity, ib. et seq.—literature, 4 et seq.—the "Sand Libusin," 6—German influence, 8—decree of Charles IV., 8 et seq.—literature of fourteenth century, 9—era of chronicles, ib.—allegories, 10—theological works, 11—Huss and Jerome, ib.—their execution, ib.—its effect upon literature, 12—cultivation of Bohemian tongue, ib. et seq.—religious poetry, 14—golden period of literature, 15 et seq.—revival of letters, 19—scholars, 24—Dobrowsky, ib.—poetry, ib.—Puchmayer, ib.—characteristics, 21—ballads and songs, ib.—language yielding to German, 23—universal literature, 24.

Brittany, its antiquities and its legends, article on, 46—characteristics, ib.—inhabitants, ib.—religious sentiment, ib.—vices, 47—illustrious men and women, ib.—legends, 48—origin of the people, 49—Vertot's opinion, ib. et seq.—Thierry's theory, 50—Asiatic origin, ib.—from Cimbrian branch of Gauls, ib. et seq.—Druids, 52—Triads, ib.—their contents, 53—traditions of Hu Gadarn, 54 et seq.—holy stones, 59—temples of Druids, 60—human and new faces, 61 et seq.—Druid priestesses, 63—their rights, ib.—mystic ceremonies, ib. et seq.—early Briton history, 64 et seq.—its obscurity, ib.—language, 67—supplanted by French language, ib.—physical characteristics of people, ib.—romances, 68—Blue Beard, ib. et seq.—Gilles de Bretagne, 73.

Butler & Co.'s New American Series reviewed, 181.

Calhoun, John Caldwell, article on, 233—position in politics, ib.—early life, ib.—entry into congress, ib.—American manufactures, 235—United States Bank, 236—the tariff, ib. et seq.—quarrel with Jackson, 237—leader of nullification, ib.—annexation of Texas, ib. et seq.—compromise measures of 1850, 238—nullification controversy, 239—the Force Bill, 240—Calhoun's argument, 241—Webster's reply, 242—history of the constitution, 243—convention convened by states, ib.—national or federal government, 244—New York in the convention, ib.—compromise effected, 245—"Federalist," ib.—right of revolution, 246—state and federal powers, 247 et seq.—speech on removal of deposits, 249—sub treasury scheme, ib.—national currency, 250—his integrity, ib. et seq.—oratorical powers, 251—compared with Webster, ib.—change in opinion, 252—other statesmen's changes, ib. et seq.—posthumous work, 253—its character, ib. et seq.—social qualities, 254—personal characteristics, 255.

Carlyle's French Revolution, criticised, 170.

Charelie, Jules, his L'Empire, les Bonapartes, et la cour, noticed, 174.

Chanzy, General, his La Deuxième Armée, de la Loire, noticed, 180.

Colliers Ancient Classics for English Readers, criticised, 193.

D'Irsac's Les Frères des Ecoles Chrétiennes pendant la guerre, de 1870–1871, reviewed, 374.

Earth, the, by Reclus, noticed, 177.

English Pronounciation and Spelling, manual of, noticed, 377.

English Literature, Handbook of, noticed, 389.

Evolution Theory, the, article on, 256—progress of science, ib.—problem of universe, 257—deduction, ib.—induction, ib.—evolution defined, ib.—spontaneous generation, 258—development hypothesis, ib.—special creation, ib.—life and environment, ib.—mind, ib.—society, 259—activity of organism, ib. development of faculty, 260—human mind, 261—present activity, ib.—psychical phenomena, 262—faculty defined, ib.—how it works, 263—the ancients, ib.—age of faculty, 264—faith, ib.—law of personal inspiration, 265—life a struggle, 366—prevalence of evil, ib.—co-operative societies, 267 et seq.—"rings," 298—decline of poetry and oratory, 269—when feeling is oppressed, ib.—mind independent, 370—environment changes with life-centre, ib.

Farjeon's Joshua Marvel, reviewed, 189.

Fortified Cities, article on, 87—ancient fortified cities, 88—ancient and modern warfare, ib. et seq.—siege of Sebastopol, 89 et seq.—what it proved, 90—iron-clads, ib.—influence of fortified cities, 91—Franco-Prussian war, ib.—prolonged war, ib.—Metz, 92—Italian quadrilateral, ib.—Mantua, ib.—efforts to take it, ib.—Ciudad Rodrigo and Badajos, 93—Jackson's cotton bales, ib.—earthworks, 95—Wellington's opinion, ib.—reliance on navy, ib.—Commodore Perry's idea, 96 et seq.—our coast cities, 97—need of fortifications, ib. et seq.—cities in time of war, 98—probabilities of war, 99 et seq.—fortifications on our lakes, 101—expense, ib. et seq.—Gibraltar, 102—morality in fortified towns, 103—provisioning, 104—siege of Paris, ib.—Leyden, ib.—remarkable sieges, 106 et seq.

German Unity, German view of, article on, 326—claims of Prussia, ib.—influence of Saxons, 327—State-forming power in the South, ib.—Prussian policy, 328 Fredrick the Great, ib.— overthrow of the Empire, 329—its causes, ib.—revolution of 1848, 330—"Address of the Fifty-one," ib.—the "Vor-Parlament," 331 — theories of revolution, 322 et seq.—insurrection at Baden, 384—conflict with Prussian troops, ib.—bad faith of Prince William, ib.—strength of democracy in South, 335—strength in the North, ib. the Reichstag, 336—the Bund, ib.—plans for union, 337—plan of "Committee of Seven," ib. et seq.—republican plan, 328—"United States of Germany," ib. et seq.—failure of revolution, 340—causes, ib.—division among leaders, ib.—mutual distrust, ib. et seq.—faults of Democratic leaders, 341 et seq.—meeting of assembly, 342—machinations of Prussian party, 341 et seq.—Principles of Austria, ib.—position of Austrian members, 344—creation of empire, ib.—crown conferred upon Prussian King, ib. et seq.—his declination, 345—dissolution of assembly, 346.

Guernsey's "Farchild's," noticed, 196.

Kellogg's Sophomores of Radcliffe, noticed 188.

Lobberton's Historical Series, noticed, 185

Last Tournament, reviewed, 382.

Le Play's Organization of Labor, noticed, 178

Lucretius, Johnson's translation of, reviewed, 379.

Lyons' American Elocutionist, reviewed and criticised, 370.

Mediterranean, the, and the Vicissitudes it has Witnessed, article on, 287—extent, 288—medium of intercourse, 289—its name and ancient designations, ib. et seq.—Hebrews, ib.—Romans, 291 et seq.—Greeks, 292—The Levant, 293—Greek poets, ib.—Homer, ib.—Hesiod, 294—Strabo's errors, ib. et seq.—tides, 295—outlet, ib.—evaporation theory, 296—double current theory, ib. et seq.—geographical features, 298—commercial development, ib.—its beauties, ib.—its legends, ib.—its history, ib.—Mediterranean countries, 300 et seq.—Spain, ib. et seq.—Gibraltar, 308—Iberians, 302—France, ib.—Italy, ib. et seq.—Corsica and Elba, 303—Greece, 305 et seq.—Egypt, 308—Northern Africa, ib.—commerce, 309—effect of Suez canal, ib.—Turkish Empire, ib. et seq.—Mohammedan misrule, 316—Greeks, 311—their genius for commerce, ib.—Mediterranean nations, ib.—population, ib.—extent of country, ib.

Member for Paris, the, reviewed, 189

National finances, our, article on, 110—Mr. Boutwell's report, ib. et seq.—President's Message, 111—heavy taxes no burden, ib.—heaviest where most liberty, ib.—taxation of European nations, 112—in despotic governments light, ib.—Montesquieu, ib. et seq.—De Toqueville, 113—Hume, ib.—Locke, ib.—Adam Smith, ib.—increase of expenditures, 115 — same ratio with wealth, ib.—progress of the nation, ib. oppressive taxation, 116—decrease of the debt, ib.—national prosperity, ib. restoration of commerce, ib. et seq.—subsidies, ib.—England's policy, 119—"the Treasury Ring," 120—our city treasury department, ib. et seq.

Nichols, Dr. James R., his Fireside Science, noticed, 394.

Paine, Dr. Martyn, his Physiology of the Soul, noticed, 396

Quack Doctors, our, and how they thrive, article on, 72—public health and wealth, ib.—attacks on either equally dangerous, ib.—our first article, 73—books and letters, ib. et seq. Sweeny and Helmbold, 75—Quack doctors worse than public thieves, ib.—money from the poor, ib.—Montesquieu, 76—Addison, ib.—the law in England, ib. et seq.—Sir Philip Crampton, 77—Rosenweig case, ib.—"the dime physician," 78—Dr. J. Walter Scott, ib. et seq.—Helmbold, 79—testimonials from ladies, ib.—premium on vice, 80—his drugs cure everything, ib.—no restraint on manufacture, 81—"specialty quacks, ib.—causes of increase, 33—ridiculed by ancient writers, ib.—Aristophanes, ib. Juvenal, ib.—Phaedrus, ib.—portrait of famous quacks, ib.—aid of newspapers, 85 et seq.—restrictive law, 85—corrupt legislation, 86

Readers, new American Series of, reviewed, 181

Russian Literature, article on, 347—original book language, 348—Sclavic and Russian languages, ib.—their differences, ib. et seq.—conflict between them, 349—early literature, 350—adaptibility for poetry, ib.—opinions of critics, ib. et seq.—"Expedition of Igor, 351—invasion of Tartars, ib.—results, ib. et seq.—first version of Bible, 352—introduction of drama, ib. Peter the Great, 353—his works, ib. et seq.—Kantemir, 354—alteration of Slavic letters, ib.—Empress Elizabeth, 355—Lomonosov, ib.—his grammar, ib. et seq.—his writings, 356 et seq.—Sumarokov and Kheraskov, 357—character of their works, 358—Derzhavin, ib.—specimen of his poetry, 359—dramatic writers, ib.—Von Wisin, ib.—remodelling of language, 361—Karamzin's efforts, ib.—the opposition, ib.—Chischkov's work, ib.—reign of Alexander, ib.—his aid to literature, ib. et seq.—Shukofsky, 363—specimen of his poetry, ib. et seq.—Krilov's fables, 365—Czar Nicholas, ib.—advent of Panslavism, ib. et seq.—effect on literature, 366—Puschkin, 367—character of his poetry, ib.—Russian popular poetry, 368—its characteristics, ib.—specimen, ib. et seq.—future of Russian literature, 369.

Saint-Edme, La Science pendant le siége de Paris, noticed, 176.

Salad for the Solitary, noticed, 195.

Sand, George, her Journal d'un Voyageur pendant la guerre, reviewed, 192.

Sartor Resartus, by Carlyle, criticised, 170.

Spalding, Archbishop, article on, 272—work of catholic church, ib. et seq.—prejudice against it, ib.—our efforts to remove them, 273—compared to Cardinal Wiseman, 274 et seq.—criticism on Jesuits, 275 et seq.—compared to Cardinal Vergerius, 276—his influence on education, 277—Jesuit colleges, ib. ib. et seq.—Georgetown college, ib.—compared with New York institutions, 278—Archbishop Hughes, ib.—the Christian Brothers, 279 et seq.—Georgetown Visitation Convent, 218—our visit to it—Archbishop McClosky, 282—his funeral oration criticised, 283 et seq.—its character, ib.—its defects, ib. et seq.

Stellar Universe, the, article on, 145—want of scientific knowledge, ib.—causes, ib.—fixed stars, 146—gauging the heavens, ib. et seq.—Herschel, ib.—stars visible to naked eye, 147—magnitudes 148—octurnal scintillation, ib.—self-lumin ous, ib. et seq.—dynamical equilibrium, 149—distances of fixed stars, ib. et seq.—annual parallax, 150—Galileo, ib.—Tycho Brahé, ib.—Copernicus, 151—declination of stars, 152—observations of Molyneux and Bradley, 152—their success, 154—aberration, ib.—micrometer, 155—average distances of stars, 157—milky way, ib. et seq.—light of the stars, 158 et seq.—periodical stars, 160—intensity of light varies, ib.—causes, 161 et seq.—temporary stars, 262 et seq.—spectrum analysis, 164—stellar catalogues, 165—their advantages, ib.—leading catalogues, 166, et seq.—double stars, 168—their causes, ib.

Sterling, John, by Carlyle, criticised, 170.

Stuloef's Series, the, noticed, 187.

Webster, Daniel, Recollections of, article on, 24—honoring great men, ib.—Roman custom, ib.—literary ability, 25—early characteristics, ib.—national banks, 26—northeastern boundary, ib. diplomatic papers, 27—opposition to enlargement of territory, ib. et seq.—political principles, 28 et seq.—compared with Burke, 29—exponent of the constitution, 30—debates with Hayne and Calhoun, ib.—expounder of federal school, 31—law of federal system, 32—tendency to disintegration, ib.—prophecies, 33—speeches, ib.—arguments, ib. et seq.—style and method, 34—compared with Calhoun, ib. et seq.—with Clay, 35—personal appearance, 37—attainments, ib.—rank as a politician, 39—as a lawyer, ib. et seq.—character of his works, 42—career as a statesman, ib. et seq.—position as an orator, 45.

Webster's Dictionary, reviewed and criticised, 182.

Young Eagle, noticed, 196.